VOLUME XIX.—NO. 22.

LOUISVILLE, SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1907.

PRICE FIVE CENTS.

JOLLY NIGHT.

Hibernians Were the Guests of Division 4 at Their New Hall.

Initiation Was Followed By Social Session and Good Cheer.

Worthy Clergyman Gives Voice to Encouragement of the Order.

NEW OFFICERS ARE NOMINATED

Of all the jolly nights in which Louisville Hibernians have taken part that of last Monday will go down in history as the greatest up to the present time. Division 4 invited its sister divisions to assist in an initiation and then treated all who assembled to an entertainment long to be remembered.

It was the first meeting of Division 4 in Bertrand Hall, Sixth street, between St. Catherine and Oak, and the visiting members congratulated their hosts on securing such a splendid meeting place. The attendance was unusually large despite the inconvenience experienced by many in reaching the hall. It was the crowning work of Division 4 for the year 1907, and in every way reflected credit on President Joseph P. McGinn and the Entertainment Committee, Messrs. John J. Barry, Joe Lenthall and Dave Reilly.

A short business session was held and all bills outstanding were allowed. The following nominations for officers for the coming year were then made:

President—John H. Hennessy.
Vice President—Thomas Lynch.
Financial Secretary—William J. Connelly, Thomas Langan.
Recording Secretary—Frank P. Burke.

Treasurer—Harry Brady, Frank McDonough.
Sergeant-at-Arms—Robert Mitchell.
Sentinel—Michael McDermott.

These officers will be elected at the first meeting to be held in December. Just before the initiation began former County President Patrick T. Sullivan, head of the degree team, made a telling address to the members on the aims and objects of the order. Mr. Sullivan was assisted by the following team: David Reilly, James Barry, James Coleman and Austin Walsh as Chief of Escorts.

Honors were conferred on the following class of candidates: David Reilly, Jr., John Anshoro, Garvey Hines, Dennis Collins, W. J. Bennett, John R. Silk and Martin Kelly.

Immediately after the initiatory ceremonies the meeting resolved itself into a social session with Joseph P. McGinn presiding. The honor could not have fallen into better hands and he kept the fun going in his usual adroit manner.

Very Rev. Father Logan, O. P., was the first speaker. He was thoroughly alive to the spirit of the occasion and gave the Hibernians a regular Irish "hundred thousand welcomes" to Bertrand Hall. It was the first time he had ever witnessed an initiation and he expressed his pleasure at all he saw and heard. The lessons taught the candidates, he said, were conducive to religion and to national spirit. By following these lessons the Hibernians will become better Catholics, better Irishmen and better citizens of Louisville.

After the applause that followed Father Logan's address had died away State President George J. Butler was introduced. He expressed his pleasure at being the guest of Division 4 and congratulated the members on their new quarters. Mr. Butler also spoke of the national convention which will be held at Indianapolis next July and expressed the hope that a mighty club of Louisville Hibernians would be organized to visit the Hoosier capital and take part in the proposed street parade. He urged them to maintain Louisville's reputation for making a splendid showing on their trip abroad.

William M. Higgins was the next speaker and in his remarks complimented the members on having with them Father Logan, whose sincere remarks on Hibernianism were encouraging and deserved. Mr. Higgins also expressed the wish that there would soon be more of the clergy to show their appreciation of Hibernianism.

Con Ford, President of Division 2, made a telling address to the new members, pointing out the advantages to be derived from membership in the A. O. H. He urged all to be regular in their attendance and said he never knew a member of the order in good standing who did not get sick benefits.

Ex-County President Patrick T. Sullivan, who had spoken earlier in the evening, was again called upon and gave the new members splendid advice for their guidance as Hibernians. He admonished them to be mindful of the spirit and feeling of the organization which fosters love of race and religion. He said they ought to be proud of those who spread the faith and urged them to follow in their footsteps.

Harry Brady, one of the veteran wheel horses of Division 4, was the next speaker. He said he was so pleased with the large attendance, the new quarters and the good cheer that he could truly say that he was glad to be there and that he hoped to attend many more such gatherings.

But the speech making was not the only feature. The inner man was treated to refreshments and there was vocal and instrumental music. Before the meeting closed the hope was expressed by many that Division 4 under the guidance of John H. Hennessy would double its membership within the next twelve months. Mr. Hennessy did good work for the order in the past and his election to the office he filled so capably several seasons will meet with general approval.

ANOTHER CONTEST.

Mackin Council Nominates Its Officers For the Next Year.

Mackin Council club house was thronged with members Tuesday night, all interested in the nomination of officers for next year. President Ben Sand occupied the chair, and when the Rev. Father Murray, of St. Cecilia's church, was declared a member there was a great outburst of applause. Announcement was made that all members who had been reported sick were improving with the exception of Clarence Zook, who is still at the Mercy Hospital in Jeffersonville. After the routine business had been disposed of the nomination of officers was gone into with the following results:

President—Robert T. Burke, John T. Kenney.

First Vice President—Frank Langan. Second Vice President—Louis Kieffer, Samuel Robertson.

Recording Secretary—Austin E. Walsh, H. G. Hill.

Corresponding Secretary—Fred Zahn, Thomas Barham.

Financial Secretary—Frank G. Adams.

Treasurer—Dan Weber.

Marshal—Carl Bartsch, A. Andriotti, H. Cooper.

Inside Sentinel—William Shetley, Patrick Duddy, George Bartsch, Carl Bartsch.

Outside Sentinel—M. Andriotti, Thomas Duddy.

Executive Committee—William Kerberg, John Lynn, Louis Kieffer, Charles Brady, Charles Oswald, C. J. Walker, Ben T. Sand, Thomas D. Clines, Vincent Falisi, Albert Hammer.

Medical Examiners—Drs. A. J. Bizot, M. Casper and W. M. Dwyer.

From the foregoing it will be seen that there will be some lively contests. Mackin Council is now a great society, and to hold an office therein is looked upon as a great honor.

There was an almost unanimous demand for Ben Sand to serve another term as President, which would have been accorded him without opposition, but he steadfastly refused, as he believes the offices should as far as possible go to the younger members.

DID NOT ACT.

Hibernians Will Nominate and Elect Officers Next Month.

Though many were present on Friday night of last week the members of Division 1, A. O. H., deferred the nomination of officers until the next meeting, which takes place on December 13, when it is hoped their hall will be thronged. Realizing that next year will be an important one for Hibernians, with National, State and County conventions to be held, the parent division wants its ablest men for officers. The administration of National affairs has been successful and satisfactory, but his business duties are such that he can serve only this term and another must be chosen for the head of the division. The other officers are excellent men and all who will accept another term will be re-elected without opposition. Notices will be sent out for the next meeting, which will have some very important business to transact.

The chair was occupied by Vice President Kilkelly, and as only routine business was transacted an early adjournment was had. The Visiting Committee reported that William Clare's condition was still critical, he being the only member on the sick list. There was some talk among the members regarding the next initiation and an entertainment on the holidays, but nothing will be done until after the new officers are installed. It has been some time since Division 1 has had a reunion, and the Entertainment Committee will doubtless soon have a programme for one after advent.

SOUTH PARK DEATH.

Edward O'Donnell, Postmaster and one of South Park's most respected and influential citizens, died Sunday afternoon at his home at that place of cancer, from which he had for some time been a patient sufferer. He was forty-seven years old and unmarried, and is survived by a sister, Miss Margaret O'Donnell, of this city, and three brothers—Joseph of Texas, Richard of St. Louis, and John of Louisville. The funeral took place Tuesday morning from Holy Name church, Rev. Father John O'Connor officiating at the solemn requiem mass. As a mark of respect business was suspended at South Park and nearly all the people of the town attended the solemn obsequies.

RECOVERING.

The many friends of Capt. John H. Weller, former member of the Board of Public Works, will be glad to know that he is recovering from the paralysis which afflicted him Monday. Because of his age, sixty-five years, many fears for the result were at first entertained, but so great has been his improvement that it is now thought he will be able to be out again on Monday.

SETTLED.

Union Employees of Railway Company Make Unconditional Surrender.

Defeated But Not Dishonored Men Seek Their Old Places.

Rioting of Misguided Individuals Defeated the Union's Plans.

THE PUBLIC PAYS THE FREIGHT.

After twelve days of serious inconvenience to the public the strike of the employees of the Louisville Railway Company was brought to a close late Tuesday afternoon and only after the unconditional surrender on the part of the strikers. The surrender was brought about not because the striking employees relinquished their right to join the union, but because a number of misguided men who had been unfortunately allowed to join the union had attempted to destroy the company's property and placed at hazard the lives of people who rode on the cars.

It has been thoroughly demonstrated that the attack on a Fourth avenue car Monday night was deliberately planned. That lives were not lost in the onslaught made on the car seems little short of miraculous, and it must be said that Chief Haager and his men acted with a great deal of forbearance in shooting over the heads of the rioters instead of shooting to kill. Even then several rioters were hit by bullets and a number of policemen were struck by bowlders.

Be it said to the credit of the majority of the union that violence was discontinued and rather than even indirectly countenance disorder and wanton outrage the men voted to call off the strike and seek re-employment with the company as individuals.

The Kentucky Irish American is pleased that the strike is settled, but it stands none the less for unionism. It never will be backward in defense of the right of the workmen to organize. Neither will it ever countenance riot nor disorder. Anarchists and anarchy will ever find a foe in the Kentucky Irish American. Unionism in America does not mean license to destroy private property.

Take another view of it, and, for the sake of argument, grant that the strike was ill-advised and disastrously managed, are the misguided men who stand accused of conspiracy, rioting, etc., solely to blame? Did not the company menace the public peace when it brought several hundred men here to take the places of the strikers? These strike-breakers were not experienced car operatives, but thugs and thieves imported for the purpose of creating a reign of terror, who succeeded and became so very obnoxious that several were arrested on the charge of embezzling the fares collected and more than a hundred were given hours to leave town by the Chief of Police.

These strike-breakers, while they looked, were not only the pets of the street car company, but Mayor Grinstead, elected by the votes of the workmen, union men if you will, turned over the police force for the protection of these marauders from abroad. At least two and sometimes half a dozen policemen were used to guard the whole of the German empire. Until now the position has always been filled by an Italian prelate, who in most cases has been unacquainted not only with German conditions and a stranger to German public men, but even unable to understand the German language. Of course his work suffered in consequence, and the disadvantages under which he labored resulted in many differences and disputes that could have been avoided.

Father Fruhwirth, who is about sixty-four years of age, was born of the Austro-Bavarian frontier, and is, strictly speaking, by birth a subject of Emperor Francis Joseph, but to all intents and purposes a German and thoroughly comprehends his countrymen and German affairs. His appointment has been received with great satisfaction throughout Germany, and the hope is expressed that the popular approval with which the appointment has been received will lead the Papacy to make similar appointments in other countries.

damage done to cars. The people will pay the bill and the new General Council in making its appropriations and fixing the tax rate for 1908 will have to take these projected damage suits into consideration. The highest rate possible under the charter may be looked for.

The Kentucky Irish American has no personal quarrel with the Louisville Railway Company, no individual grievance to air, but it does believe that the public ought to be in some manner protected from a recurrence of the evils that have just been brought to a close.

FRIENDS MOURNED

When They Learned That James Garvey Was Dead.

James C. Garvey, one of the best known and most highly respected young men in local Catholic and Irish circles, fell a victim to dropsy and died Monday night at his home, 753 1/2 Fifth street. The funeral took place from the Cathedral of the Assumption Wednesday morning and the interment was in St. Louis cemetery, a long line of sorrowing friends following the remains to the last resting place.

Mr. Garvey was born in Louisville thirty-eight years ago and was a member of an old and respected Irish Catholic family. When quite a young man he was made steward at the Willard Hotel and filled that position many years. Later he retired to accept a clerkship with the L. & N. Railroad Company, where his duties were less onerous. He is survived by his wife and little son, his venerable mother, the widow of M. J. Garvey; one brother, David Garvey, and his sister, Mrs. John B. Nadorff. His death was not unexpected the news was a great shock to his legion of friends. Mrs. Garvey before her marriage was Miss Lizzie Magruder, of Lebanon, and a member of one of the best known families in that section.

POPE PIUS

Appoints Noted Dominican to Papal Mission at Munich.

Pius X. has inaugurated an altogether new departure, and a successful one, it is thought, by selecting as his new Nuncio to Munich a German in the person of Father Fruhwirth, the former General of the Dominican order. The Papal mission at Munich is one of particular importance, since the Nuncio there is virtually entrusted with the representation of the Pontiff throughout the whole of the German empire. Until now the position has always been filled by an Italian prelate, who in most cases has been unacquainted not only with German conditions and a stranger to German public men, but even unable to understand the German language. Of course his work suffered in consequence, and the disadvantages under which he labored resulted in many differences and disputes that could have been avoided.

Father Fruhwirth, who is about sixty-four years of age, was born of the Austro-Bavarian frontier, and is, strictly speaking, by birth a subject of Emperor Francis Joseph, but to all intents and purposes a German and thoroughly comprehends his countrymen and German affairs. His appointment has been received with great satisfaction throughout Germany, and the hope is expressed that the popular approval with which the appointment has been received will lead the Papacy to make similar appointments in other countries.

MEMORIAL FOR POLICEMEN.

The Rev. Father John P. Chidwick, Chaplain of the New York Police Department, conducted memorial services for the repose of the souls of deceased members of the department on Thanksgiving morning at St. Ambrose church, Tenth avenue and Fifty-fourth street, at which over 1,000 members of the force assisted.

FORTY HOURS' PRAYER.

The first Forty Hours' devotions of the new ecclesiastical year will be held at the Cathedral, beginning at the high mass tomorrow and concluding Tuesday. During these beautiful devotions the fathers at the Cathedral will have the assistance of other priests, and it is expected many will avail themselves of the privilege of approaching holy communion and gaining the indulgences.

GERMANTOWN.

Was Scene of Great Gathering of Good and Able Men.

Irishmen Were Honored Guests at Splendid Social Session.

Grand Catholic Organization Is Doing Great Work For Church.

CATHOLIC CHURCH IN OLD KENTUCKY

Germantown was the scene of a pleasant celebration Tuesday night when the members of St. John's Benevolent Society and its offspring, the Columbia Athletic Club, joined in a social session at the hall on Shelby and Oak streets. While the two societies are composed of German-American Catholics the members invited several Irish-American Catholics to partake of their hospitality, and those who accepted were so well pleased that they are willing to go again. Among these guests were Hon. Newton G. Rogers, William M. Higgins and William T. Meehan.

Eighteen years ago the St. John's Benevolent Society was organized in Germantown by the Catholics residing there, and during the time that has intervened it has done a great deal of good among its members. It has aided widows and orphans and has helped many of its members to buy or build their own homes.

The veteran members are growing old and desire their sons to keep up the good work begun nearly a score of years ago. To that end the Columbia Athletic Club has been organized and the young men now have additional interest in the affairs of the parent society. In order to join the club the young men must first be members in good standing of the benevolent society. A fee of ten cents a month is required of the athletic club members and when a sufficient sum is reported in the treasury a social session like that which took place Tuesday night is arranged.

The regular business of the society was conducted with dispatch before the social session began with John Schalda as toastmaster. Briefly Mr. Schalda spoke of the aims and objects of St. John's Benevolent Society and of the fact that by becoming a member a man became a better citizen and a better Catholic. The man without religion, he said, is weak and not true to God or country. He called upon Attorney Newton G. Rogers to address those assembled.

Mr. Rogers is always instructive in his remarks and his address Tuesday night was particularly well received. His subject was "Church and State." He said that Kentuckians had one particularly dominant trait of character—love of home and love of the grand old Commonwealth. The speaker dwelt upon the natural resources of Kentucky, her immense forests and her hidden mineral wealth, the gifts of God, and he told of the part that Kentucky Catholics had always taken in developing her resources. The speaker told of the trials and tribulations of the early settlers of Kentucky, a band of Catholics who came from Maryland. Their descendants have preserved the faith for more than 100 years and are always the leading business and professional men in the State. In graphic style the orator traced the history of Kentucky from the time of Daniel Boone, never forgetting the part played by Catholics. Neither did he omit to state that the diocese of Louisville was the second diocese created in the United States.

He spoke of the war of 1812, when England sought a second time to enthrall the Union. At that time Kentucky was called upon to furnish 4,000 men and at once 7,000 loyal men rallied around the standard of the Stars and Stripes and followed Jackson to New Orleans and were with him at the victory which ended the war.

Again in 1846, when troops were called for to defend Americans against the depredations of the Mexicans, Kentucky was asked to furnish 10,000 troops. The response brought 15,500 volunteers into the field and these loyal fellows from the Bluegrass State played a great part in wresting that vast territory known as Texas from the Mexicans. Referring to the part played by Kentucky in the civil war and admitting that her sons had fought both on the sides of the North and South, he declared that Kentucky's neutral course in a great measure saved the Union from threatened disruption. In conclusion Mr. Rogers gave a succinct account of the progress made by the Catholic church in Kentucky from 1775 to the present time. Catholicity in Kentucky, he said, was something to be proud and thankful for.

After the applause died away William M. Higgins was introduced and made a few remarks of a congratulatory nature and told how fortunate he and his Irish friends were to be permitted to assist at the session.

work until every Catholic man, young and old, in Germantown was a member of the organization. Meetings like this, he said, made old men feel young again.

Ben Dodi, President of the Columbian Athletic Club, was the next speaker. His remarks were brief and he was followed by his father, John Dodi, the venerable founder of St. John's Society. Mr. Dodi spoke of the origin of the society and his connection with it and also recalled that he had been a member of St. Charles the Great Society for thirty-four years and of the Roman Knights of St. John nearly as long. He had his Irish friends a hearty welcome and told several jokes illustrating the feeling that ought to prevail among two great races in America, the Germans and the Irish.

Edward Reiss, present President of St. John's Society, was the next speaker. He said there was little left for him to say, save that he believed all present were proud they were Catholics.

Other speakers were Ben Beckman, first President of the Columbia Athletic Club, and John Abel, the Vice President. Secretary Brederman recited James Mulligan's famous poem "In Keturky."

President Reiss and his fellow officers, Messrs. Zehe, Schalda and Walker, have reason to feel proud of the entertainment both from a social and gastronomic standpoint. During the evening an elegant course dinner was served and all present did justice to the viands prepared.

EDWARD KELTY.

Capable Man Nominated For President of Trinity Council.

Trinity Council hall on East Gray street was thronged Tuesday night and a very interesting session was held. The fact that officers for the ensuing year were to be nominated attracted many to the meeting who had not attended for some time past and their presence caused a good feeling to prevail. A number of reports were received from various committees and communications read, and those that will be submitted next month will show that Trinity Council has enjoyed a most successful year. The building fund has been largely increased and with the opening of spring it is expected active work will begin on the new home.

Trinity nominated officers for next year, conferring its highest honor on Edward Kelty, who was the unanimous choice for President. For years he has been one of the most active spirits in the council, and will bring to his office an executive ability that will be a great asset to the future. That he was given the Presidency without opposition is appreciated by his friends, who are pledged to make next year a record-breaker for Trinity. The others nominated are also well known and capable young men. They are:

President—Edward Kelty.
First Vice President—Dr. G. P. Beutel, Jr.

Second Vice President—John Sullivan, Sr., Frank Pilson.

Recording Secretary—George Kirchdorfer, Joe Mator.

Corresponding Secretary—Ellert Miller.

Financial Secretary—Clem Ellert, Robert Goebel.

Treasurer—James B. Kelly.
Marshal—George Kirchdorfer, Joe Beckman.

Inside Sentinel—Joseph Reiss.
Outside Sentinel—J. Falzer.

Executive Committee—Bernard Morthorst, Frank Pilson, Dr. B. J. Lammers, J. J. Driscoll, N. Hubbuck, Jr., James B. Kelly, Vic Ecker, A. F. Martin.

After the election preparations will be made for the installation, which is an event of unusual interest to the Catholics of the East End.

HEART TROUBLE

Proved Fatal to Priest Who Advocated Socialistic Ideas.

Press reports Wednesday announced the death of the Rev. Father Thomas McGrady, formerly pastor of St. Anthony's church, Bellevue, Ky. His death occurred at San Francisco, and after an illness of heart disease from which he had been a sufferer for several years. He had been confined to his bed in a Catholic hospital for three weeks prior to his death.

Father McGrady while pastor at Bellevue developed such strong Socialistic tendencies that he was removed by Bishop Maes. This led to the priest's resignation from his pastoral duties. He then traveled over the country lecturing on Socialism. He refused the Socialistic nomination for Governor of Kentucky and also of President of the United States. During the past two years little had been heard of him in public. His body will be brought to Muir's Station in Fayette county for burial. He is survived by the following brother and sisters: Hugh and Miss Alice McGrady, of Muir Station; Sister Elvira, of Newport; Sister Celsa, of Nazareth, and Sister Leala, of Owensboro.

RICK QUINN QUITE ILL.

Rick Quinn one of the best known business men in Louisville and with a host of admirers in every part of the city, is seriously ill at his home at Seventh and Oak streets. His condition has taken such an alarming turn that his friends fear he end is not far off. Mr. Quinn has been prominent in Democratic politics, but was never a candidate for any office. He has been foremost in charitable work and yet his charity was never ostentatious. Those who know him best pray that he will recover from his present indisposition.

DROP MASK

Secretary Birrell's Game of Humbug Played Out in Ireland.

Has Not Succeeded in Deluding the People of the Country.

Thinly Veiled Threats of Coercion Will Kait Divided Nationalists.

DUBLIN CASTLE APPOINTMENTS.

Commenting upon the situation in Ireland, the Dundalk Democrat notes with a certain feeling of satisfaction the petulant speech of the Chief Secretary for Ireland delivered on Tuesday night at Southampton. Secretary Birrell, it says, has not succeeded quite as fully as he may have anticipated in deluding the people of this country. He does not seem to have quite forgiven the Irish for their audacity in rejecting his precious council bill, so probably he has come to the conclusion that the game of humbug is played out in this country, and that he and the Ministry of which he is a member must assume some new role. Up to the present they have posed as friends—rather superior and patronizing friends—of Ireland. They have made nebulous promises of Irish reforms but shirked the carrying out of them; and now Birrell finds a very plausible excuse for the broken promises of his party. It is the cattle-drivers that are the parties really responsible, they are the magistrates who refuse to send those wicked men to gaol. So long as these misguided people persist in their "conspiracy" to have the big cattle ranches broken up and divided among the holders of congested and uneconomic holdings, Birrell's kindly intentions toward this country be thwarted.

It is assumed in some quarters that this speech of Secretary Birrell's forecasts some return to the old weapon of coercion. It would indeed be well to have the means of coercion—Liberal shoulders and let us see what stuff these friendly statesmen, so liberal of promises, are really made of. Many people in this country think the Liberal alliance has endured too long already. The poor, timorous, emasculated means of the Liberal alliance has been led to hope for, confirmed the disbelief in Liberal bona-fides which had grown up during the year he had been kept waiting, following the general election. The subsequent means of the Liberal alliance has been led to hope for, confirmed the disbelief in Liberal bona-fides which had grown up during the year he had been kept waiting, following the general election. The subsequent means of the Liberal alliance has been led to hope for, confirmed the disbelief in Liberal bona-fides which had grown up during the year he had been kept waiting, following the general election.

We notice in the "Freeman's Journal" certain letters, addressed by one from a member of the Irish party, complaining that in the official appointments made by Birrell from Dublin Castle Irish Unionists have secured most of the plums, and Nationalists and Catholics have got pretty much the same old position of cold shoulder to which they have long been accustomed. It is not pleasant to notice an Irish Nationalist member of Parliament joining in this rather whining protest. That kind of thing might be left for the office-seekers. Coming at the same week as the announcement of the appointment of an ex-member of Parliament and member of the Freeman staff to a County Court Judgeship, it is calculated to affect the stomach of the rank-and-file Nationalist down in the country. Nevertheless, the unquestionable fact that the Irish and their predecessor have been appointing Unionists to two out of three official vacancies since they took the reins in Dublin Castle is in itself a proof that their affection of popular sympathies is a mere sham. They, too, are afraid to trust the people of England as there are not enough Devotionists to go round, they have to give the jobs to the good old Unionist crowd.

Let us have coercion by all means. It will be better than humbug. It will let us see what class of people we are dealing with. It will put an end to place hunting. It will reunite the Nationalists, and stiffen their backs against an open and avowed enemy. Also, it will lead, as coercion has always led, to another era of reform and "conciliation."

AGED ENGINEER DEAD.

John P. McCann, believed to be the oldest engineer in Kentucky, died at his home in Lexington Tuesday night and was buried from St. Paul's church in that city Thursday afternoon. The deceased was eighty-eight years old and spent nearly all his life in Lexington. He ran the first locomotive on the old Frankfort and Lexington railroad, the oldest railway in the State. He was well known and highly respected in the community in which he lived.

RECOVERED.

It will be welcome news to his many friends to learn that Prof. F. Morbach, who has been ill for nine weeks, has recovered sufficiently to be able to resume his duties.

THERE'S A DIFFERENCE.

It is common rumor that there is a great lack of harmony between Governor-elect Willson and Mayor Grinstead. The belief seems to be general that ere long there will be an open rupture between the two factions. Mayor Grinstead was not nominated on his own popularity, but his nomination was forced on a Fusionist convention by the followers of Gov. Bradley and Mr. Willis N. Mr. Grinstead won his nomination by less than half a dozen votes. His most bitter opponent on the floor was Marshall Bullitt. Now Mr. Bullitt is Chairman of the Board of Public Safety and the man behind the Mayor at the City Hall.

After having won the nomination by a narrow margin Mr. Grinstead would not have won the election had it not been that he was swept in by the tide of Augustus E. Willson's popularity. Even then he trailed in several thousand votes behind.

Mr. Willson bids fair to remain the most popular of the two. His first public utterance, a refusal to allow any unnecessary display at the inauguration. He gives two reasons, his dislike of pomp and the depleted appropriation for the State Guard.

Mr. Grinstead's initial act was to take the police away from their ordinary duties to protect the property of the Louisville Railway Company and destroy labor unions.

PLEA FOR SCHRAZ.

Quarrels among members of the General Council of the city of Louisville are of little wonder to us under ordinary circumstances, but the fact that Councilman Albert T. Schranz precipitated seems to be at least worthy of note. It may be that it will be worthy of investigation.

Tuesday night Councilman Schranz offered a resolution not to take away any privileges enjoyed by the Louisville Railway Company, but merely providing for the appointment of a committee to see if it had a ninety-nine-year franchise to operate on Louisville streets. This resolution was tabled after a short debate and Mr. Schranz was hooted down.

The resolution was simple and inoffensive and, it is understood, had the approval of City Attorney Richards. No harm could have come of the adoption of the resolution. Let us have the investigation and perhaps do the public a favor.

TIDE IS TURNING.

According to Government and press reports the tide of immigration is turning, and while more than 100,000 people came to our shores in October as many more went back to Europe. It is also stated that enough vessels can not be found to send back all who wish to leave the United States. Why is this? Students of social and economic problems have not been able to answer.

They are unable to say whether better conditions are prevailing across the water or worse conditions in America. It is at least a healthy sign for both sides of the ocean. Those who leave America will carry into their former countries American ideas, American goods. They will advertise American markets and increase our commerce. Those who are coming in will supply the brawn if not the brain of those departing, and neither Europe nor America will suffer by the exchange.

When Judge Asher Graham Caruth died Monday morning a brilliant and honorable career ended and Louisville lost another of her most valued citizens. Judge Caruth was born in Kentucky, and since 1866 he has been prominent in Louisville. His record at the bar, in Congress and on the bench and his private life were such as to win for him the confidence and respect of the masses of the people, who sincerely mourn his death. Possessed of a tender heart, kindly impulses and an unfailing good nature, charitable and benevolent, the poor and unfortunate of the city have lost a true friend for whom they will offer many a prayer.

Christmas is coming and editors must live and thrive and celebrate like others. Please do not wait for our collector to call upon you. Send in the money by messenger or mail. It will be appreciated.

"Now that Republican Willson has carried Kentucky," says the "taunt" Democratic Times, "it's a question of time before some enthusiast of his party will boom him for the Republican nomination for Vice President." Nay, nay, Willie, Kentucky just looks upon Gus Willson as Presidential timber, against which your little sarcasms will not prevail. You helped elect him Governor and should not desert now.

One of our exchanges says: "When we see a man in public known as a Catholic, who is a Catholic in the true sense of the word, we are proud of him, but when we see a man in public, claiming to be a Catholic, and who is a disgrace to the Catholic church, we are disgusted." The Kentucky Irish American has frequently given voice to the same sentiments.

The invitation accorded several local Irish-Americans to attend a celebration given by local German-Americans is a move in the right direction. It is now in order for the Irish-Americans to invite some of their German brethren to a social session. It is time we were getting together and each side can learn a few things from the other.

The American people have just awakened to the fact that the present so-called financial panic was precipitated by the Wall-street gamblers in the vain hope of influencing the tone of President Roosevelt's forthcoming message to Congress. It was a desperate game, but stock gamblers are accustomed to that sort of thing.

An attempt has been made in New York to abolish the singing of Christmas carols in the public schools. This seems to be news to the daily papers. For seventy-five years or more the Catholic church in America has been teaching that the public school system is driving religion out of the minds and hearts of our people.

The Rochester Citizen declares those who are so foolish as to withdraw their savings from banks and put them in secreted places about their homes or elsewhere deserve no sympathy should they be deprived of them by sharpers or burglars. If the banks were weak in this section they would have suspended long ere this.

Senator McCreary's term of service as United States Senator from Kentucky does not expire until March 4, 1909. Gov. Beckham, who has the nomination to succeed him, retires from the Governorship on December 10, and will therefore be a private citizen a little over two years.

If Mayor Grinstead and his Board of Safety are as alert and forceful in guarding the city's interests as they were in putting down the street car strike they will insure re-election two years hence. But will they be?

Before you begin your Christmas shopping carefully scan the advertisements in the Kentucky Irish American. It will pay you.

CONSISTORY.

Unlikely That New Cardinals Will Be Named in December.

The Holy Father has decided to hold a private consistory on December 9 and the public consistory on the Thursday following, December 12. It is extremely unlikely that any new Cardinals will be appointed on this occasion—though there is reason to believe that another consistory will be held before next Easter, at which seven or eight of the vacancies in the Sacred College will be filled.

Cardinal Rinaldini, who has already arrived in Italy, will come to Rome two or three days before the consistory, at which he will receive the hat.

On Sunday, December 22, the Holy Father will consecrate Mgr. Della Chiesa as Archbishop of Bologna in the Sistina Chapel.

SODALITY RETREAT.

Preparatory for the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, which this year falls on Sunday, December 8, a three days' retreat for the Young Ladies' Sodality and the young women of the parish, conducted by the Rev. William R. Dunn, O. P., will begin next Thursday at St. Louis Bertrand's church. This feast day is always an important event at the Dominican church and is observed with elaborate and impressive ceremonies.

ENAMEL FOR STOVES.

Instead of blacking the stove each week buy ten cent stove enamel, which lasts a long time; all it requires is a daily wiping off with a damp cloth, and looks much better than blacking.

SOCIETY.

George Kraus has returned from Mt. Sterling, where he visited his daughter, Mrs. Paul McKenna.

Steve Toomey has just returned from French Lick Springs, where he had been on a ten days' vacation.

Paul J. Coleman and wife have returned from Frankfort, where they spent Thanksgiving visiting friends.

Mrs. Fred Flanagan, who spent a few days with relatives in South Louisville, has returned to her home in Covington.

Miss Catherine Bryan, of the West End, has been having a pleasant visit at Covington, the guest of Miss Virginia Martin.

Miss Jessie Smith, of Corbin, arrived here last week to visit her cousin, Miss Marie Merimee and Mrs. Ray in Clifton.

Mrs. Edward Corcoran, of Frankfort, is spending Thanksgiving week in Jeffersonville as the guest of her mother, Mrs. Joseph Willman.

Mrs. Minnie V. Bosche entertained her card club on Tuesday in a delightfully hospitable manner, the favors being both unique and handsome.

Miss Mayme Reeder, of Twenty-sixth and Alford avenue, a prominent member of the West End social set, will spend next month visiting friends in New Orleans.

Miss Mary Elizabeth Verna and John H. Husson were united in matrimony at Holy Trinity church, New Albany, Thanksgiving morning. Rev. Father Charles Curran officiating.

Mrs. Frank A. Geher's numerous friends will be rejoiced to learn that she has almost entirely recovered from the indisposition that has confined her to her home for the past week.

Frank Senn has been enjoying a sojourn at West Baden, oblivious to the inconveniences occasioned by the street car strike here and the stringency that prevails in financial circles.

Thomas J. Garvey, who was called here to attend the funeral obsequies of his cousin, James Garvey, left Thursday for Paducah, where he holds a remunerative and responsible position.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jaglowicz, Thomas Kenney and Misses Maema Rita and Nell Kenney were members of a Thanksgiving house party at the home of Prof. and Mrs. A. B. Hart at St. Mary's.

Miss Mary Stewart, 2424 Bank street, was hostess to the Young Ladies' Euchre Club last Tuesday night, whose friends assembled in large numbers and enjoyed a most delightful entertainment.

Among the out-of-town guests at the Quirk-Finnegan nuptials Wednesday were Martin Hibbit, of Indianapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Michael McLaughlin, of Madison; and John Quirk and wife, of Chicago.

The friends of Mrs. Emmet Smith, of 1710 Portland avenue, will be pleased to learn that she is recovering from an attack of nervous neuralgia, from which she has been a sufferer for several weeks.

Word has been received here that the stork in passing over Chicago this week deposited a pretty baby girl at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Crowley. The proud mother was formerly Miss Bee Mularky of this city.

The Young Ladies' Euchre Club of the West End will be entertained next Tuesday night at the residence of Miss Bessie Fischer, 2436 West Main. The friends of the members are invited and will receive handsome favors.

Patrik Mooney, one of the proprietors of the Leland Hotel and prominent in all that pertains to the prosperity and advancement of Lexington, stopped over for a short visit with Louisville friends while en route home from a pleasant sojourn at West Baden Springs.

Jacob Busch, of 1129 Milton street, celebrated the christening of his first son in royal style last Sunday. The baptism was performed at St. Elizabeth's church, Rev. Father Assent officiating. The child was named George Martin. The God-parents are George Busch and Miss Carrie Lacher.

One of the prettiest of the week's weddings was that of Miss Mayme Dutt and Ben Webb, solemnized at the Church of Our Lady by the Rev. Father James J. Conni. Both are popular in the West End, and a large gathering of friends was present to witness the ceremony and extend congratulations.

Ben Hinkebein, the well known and jolly New Albany traveling salesman, who was seriously injured eight weeks ago and has since been confined to his home, 1005 East Market street, has recovered sufficiently to again resume his trips. He is one of the prominent members of Unity Council, Y. M. C.

The wedding of Miss Laura Louise Murphy to George A. Perry will be solemnized on Saturday morning at 6 o'clock at St. Louis Bertrand's church. The bride is the daughter of Cornelius Clay Murphy, Chief Assistant City Assessor. Mr. Perry is one of the best known young men in the city and for years has been prominent in railroad circles.

Mr. and Mrs. John J. Barry entertained Wednesday evening in honor of their wedding anniversary at their residence, 633 West St. Catherine street. Those present were Misses Marcella Meagher, Kate McLaughan, Catherine Hines, Anna O'Keefe, Esther Osterman, Abbie Chester, Mamie, Abbie and Margaret Kennedy. Messrs. D. J. Gleason, Andrew J. Meagher, Frank J. Burke, Prof. V. Falisi, Thomas C. Barry, Guy Osterman, William D. Chester; Mrs. Winifred Hennessy and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. Barry. Vocal and instrumental selections were rendered by Miss Esther Osterman, Miss Abbie Chester and Prof. Falisi.

A very pretty wedding took place at St. Cecilia's church Thanksgiving afternoon, when Miss Mattie Martin, the attractive and popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Martin, 2527 Griffiths avenue, became the bride of Charles P. Tierney. Quite a number of friends assembled at the church to witness the ceremony and showered the couple with congratulations.

Paul Edward Rodman and bride, who was Miss Edna May Burgess, are expected to return today from their honeymoon trip, and after Monday they will be at home to their friends at 1621 First street. Their marriage was solemnized last week at the Dominican church and was one of the most elaborate of the many that have been witnessed there this fall.

Surrounded by many friends and relatives Miss Mayme Murphy and John J. Carroll were united in the holy bonds of matrimony on Thanksgiving day at the Church of Our Lady in Portland, Rev. Father Conni officiating. The ceremony was a most beautiful one, and they appreciate the kindness of Miss Fischer, who has received several valuable prizes to be contested for at the entertainment that evening.

A wedding at St. Patrick's church that attracted more than usual interest in Irish Catholic social circles this week was that of Miss Mary A. King and James M. Short. The ceremony was performed by the Very Rev. Father James P. Cronin and preceded a nuptial mass. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Short left on a trip through the West. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John King. Mr. Short is engaged in business in the West End.

Many friends and admirers assembled at St. George's church Wednesday afternoon to witness the marriage of Miss Nora Belle Lardner and C. Alexander Hunter, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. George Weiss. Owing to a recent bereavement in the bride's family all display was omitted and the wedding was a quiet one. Immediately following the ceremony the young couple left for the East, where they will spend their honeymoon, and on December 5 they will be at home at 2116 Bolling avenue.

One of the season's prettiest weddings at Shelbyville was solemnized at the Church of the Annunciation last Wednesday, when Lee Hall, of Bardonia, Ind. Miss Clara Kallenbacher to the altar. Rev. Father John H. Riley performed the ceremony. After a brief visit to relatives of the bride at Evansville Mr. and Mrs. Hall will begin housekeeping in Shelbyville. The bride is one of that city's most popular girls and Mr. Hall is head of the construction department of the Shelbyville Water and Light Company.

The marriage of D. Oliver Patton, formerly of Portland, but now located at Globe, Ariz., and Miss Sadie Earl, one of the prettiest girls in the West End, was solemnized Thanksgiving day at St. Cecilia's church, the Rev. Father Brady officiating. Following the church ceremony there was a most elegant wedding feast and a largely attended reception at the home of the bride's mother, Twenty-second and Griffiths avenue, after which the worthy couple left for Arizona, where they will make their future home. They carry with them the best wishes of a legion of friends for a long life of happiness and prosperity.

With a nuptial mass at 6 o'clock on Thanksgiving morning Eugene Hettiger and Miss Della Gaber were united in marriage at St. Cecilia's church, Rev. Father Murray performing the ceremony in the presence of many friends of the worthy young couple. Edward Hettiger, brother of the groom, acted as best man, and Miss Frances Gruber, the bride's sister, was the bridesmaid. Messrs. John Bittel and Claude McDonald were the ushers. Both bride and groom have been prominent in the younger society set, to whom the news of the marriage came as a pleasant surprise. After the wedding breakfast the happy couple left on a wedding trip to Chicago, where they have relatives.

CELEBRATE TOMORROW.

The St. Andrew Society of St. Anthony's parish will tomorrow celebrate its anniversary with religious ceremonies, the members receiving holy communion in a body at the 7 o'clock mass. This is the first German Catholic society organized in the West End, and it has now been in existence for over half a century. Included in its membership are some of Louisville's foremost professional and business men.

DEPUTY AT LARGE.

The many members of the Young Men's Institute in the Kentucky jurisdiction will heartily approve of the appointment of George W. Lawo, President of Memphis Council and a member of the Board of Grand Directors, Deputy at Large for the entire order. He has just received notice of his appointment as a member of the committee of five that will have the revision of the ritual in charge.

PULL FOR O'CONNELL.

Lawyers all over the State want William B. O'Connell retained as a deputy in the office of the Clerk of the Court of Appeals. Petitions are being signed in all the county seats and forwarded to Napier Adams, the new clerk. Deputy O'Connell has proven an efficient clerk and his friends would like to see him retained.

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.

Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

Before the year dies out Tipton, Ind., will be on the list.

Next year the council at Logansport, Ind., will erect a home of its own.

Louisville Council will hold its annual election of officers on Wednesday, December 4.

Many councils held initiations Thanksgiving day, large classes making the pilgrimage.

St. Paul Knights gave their hall to the ladies of the Cathedral parish for a card party last Saturday.

The new quarters the council at Massillon, Ohio, is fitting up will embrace 6,400 feet of floor space.

Tomorrow Zanesville and neighboring councils will hold a joint initiation and add a large number to the Ohio membership.

The council at Wabasha, Minn., which numbered 144 members, was increased to 200 by the initiation on Thanksgiving day.

Oswego Knights are talking about holding a great charity ball in the new State armory for the benefit of St. Francis' Home.

Fifty candidates were recently initiated at Sioux City, and at the banquet served by the ladies Bishop O'Gorman was the principal speaker.

Five hundred people were feasted at the banquet that followed the recent initiation at Duluth, Minn., when fifty-nine names were placed upon the rolls of the council there.

Auburn Knights celebrated Thanksgiving day by conferring the second degree on many candidates, concluding with a social session for which a fine programme had been arranged.

The first annual reception and ball of Hennepin Council at Minneapolis on Tuesday night was largely attended and from a society standpoint eclipsed anything witnessed there this year.

The first degree was conferred on a large class at Syracuse last Tuesday night. Many Knights there attended the Church of the Assumption on Monday night, when Rev. William Dwyer, Chaplain of Syracuse Council, delivered an address.

CHURCH IN CHINA.

Established Before First Settlement in United States.

But few non-Catholics are aware of the fact that the Catholic church was established in China in 1580—eighteen years before the first settlement in the United States in Jamestown—by a Jesuit, Father Ricci. It has now over a million communicants. There are over 55,000 Catholics, Chinese and representatives of various other peoples, in Shanghai alone; sixty-five Catholic churches and chapels within fifteen miles' radius of Shanghai; a college for young men and a convent school for young girls; a famous meteorological observatory in care of the Jesuits; the largest hospital in the Orient, the General Hospital, in charge of the Sisters of Charity, but free to all without question of race or creed, all in that city. The church there is now enjoying a steady growth and its great work is appreciated by both Chinese authorities and people.

WORK UNDER WAY.

Reports from Hodgenville say that the work of transforming the farm surrounding the birthplace of Abraham Lincoln into a park is progressing rapidly, but it may require two years to have the proposed buildings ready for dedication. A. E. Welman, a well known sculptor of New York, has been selected to fashion the bronze statue of Lincoln that will adorn the park. Thus far $200,000 has been subscribed for the park and subscriptions are still coming in.

BURIED AT NEW HAVEN.

Mrs. Mary Alice Hagan, thirty-nine years of age, wife of C. W. Hagan, a carpenter, died suddenly Tuesday night at her home at 1410 Eleventh street. Her death was due to an attack of acute pneumonia. Mrs. Hagan was able to attend to her household duties until Tuesday, when she was stricken. Besides her husband she is survived by six children. The body was taken to New Haven, her former home, Thursday morning for burial.

The People's Restaurant, a new venture, at 309 West Market street, opened its doors to the public this week, and patronage is everything new and up-to-date and a menu that included the best the market affords. Messrs. Poulos and Alexion are the proprietors, and they have associated with them John Clark, who is well known in Louisville fraternal society circles. They say that those who try them once will call again.

NOTED VISITOR.

The Right Rev. P. J. Garrigan, the beloved Bishop of Sioux City, Ia., is resting and recuperating at West Baden Springs. Last Sunday he preached two sermons at the Catholic church near the Springs and delighted all who heard him. Bishop Garrigan was elevated to the episcopacy six years ago. He is known as one of the most forceful pulpit orators in the American hierarchy.

FIFTEEN HUNDRED BISHOPS.

One-fifth of all the Bishops in the church now belong to religious orders, that of St. Francis heading the list with thirty-seven. The Society of Foreign Missions comes next with thirty-five. The total number of Bishops is about fifteen hundred. There are five Dominican Archbishops and thirteen Bishops.

POSTPONED.

The reception and entertainment that was to have been given by Branch A. C. K. and L. of A., at Bertrand Hall last Tuesday night, in honor of the Advisory Board, was postponed on account of the street car trouble. At the next meeting a date for the visit will be set, and the result will be that the men and women of Limerick will arrange for a still greater celebration.

EARNST CHURCH BUILDER.

When Archbishop Patrick J. Ryan came to Philadelphia in 1884 there were but forty-four Catholic churches within the city limits. There are now one hundred, an increase of almost three for each year of the venerable prelate's administration. There was almost a corresponding increase in the number erected throughout his archdiocese.

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General
News Notes.

At the elections to be held next month 8,000 officers are to be chosen. Only one meeting will be held next week, that of Division 4 on Wednesday night.

St. Paul, Milwaukee and Butte, Mont., each have divisions with over 500 members.

Every Hibernian in the city should try and attend Division 4's initiation next Monday night.

A short business session of Division 4 will be held Monday night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

The Hibernians of Hartford, Conn., will have a big bazar at the Auditorium next week and expect to realize a great sum.

Division 2 of Syracuse gave a very successful grand ball last week and realized a nice sum for the benefit of the Hibernian Band.

All of the State and county officers of the order in Rhode Island attended the concert and dance of the Ladies' Auxiliary at Providence.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of Waterbury, Conn., celebrated their tenth anniversary at the City Hall. About a thousand people attended the function, which is an annual affair and looked forward to by many people of the city.

National Director Moran and National Editor Hattigan will address public meetings in the interest of the Order during November and December in western Maryland, West Virginia, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

It is estimated that 2,000 delegates and 12,000 visitors will be in attendance at the national convention at Indianapolis, not counting the military bodies that will attend the national encampment of the Hibernian Rifles.

Three hundred members attended the anniversary celebration of Division 1 of Washington when there was a discussion of the report of the committee concerning the building of a central home for all the divisions of the National capital.

Maurice Donnelly has been made Chairman of the general committee that will arrange for the entertainment of the national convention at Indianapolis. Four members from each of the seven divisions in Maryland constitute this important body.

Division 1, A. O. H., of New Albany, announces a double eulchre and reception for its members and friends next Tuesday afternoon and night at Holy Trinity Hall, Ninth and Market streets, Louisville and Jeffersonville Hibernians are cordially invited and assured a good time.

The annual reunion of St. Louis Hibernians attracted a large gathering. Judge O'Neill Ryan presided, and addresses were delivered by the State Chaplain, Rev. Father Dempsey, State President Patrick R. Fitz Gibbon and others. Resolutions were adopted requesting the teaching of Irish history in the parochial schools.

Division 2 of Washington will shortly put Irish history in St. Aloysius and St. Patrick's parochial schools. The school authorities, it is said, are only too willing and it is the intention of the Division to purchase the books. Gold and silver medals will also be offered to the students of Gonzaga College for the best essay on a certain period in Irish history, the medals to be presented at the next college commencement.

Miss Nellie McDonough, the bright and attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McDonough, 1301 Ekin avenue, New Albany, was awarded the gold medal for scholarship at the New Albany Business College last Monday evening. Miss McDonough was also an honor graduate of the New Albany High School class of 1906. She is now holding a responsible position with one of the leading firms in this city.

MAKE IT PERMANENT.

As Tax Receiver-elect H. H. McCulloch, who was elected on the Republican ticket, was unable to furnish the amount of bond required by ordinance, the office was again turned over to Thomas Shelley and his deputies. The only drawback to this transfer is that Mr. Shelley's reign will not be permanent, as it is conceded on all sides that he made the best Tax Receiver the city ever had, and had an office force of deputies that could not be surpassed.

WHAT COCHRAN SAYS.

"I have always thought," said Bourke Cochran in Washington last Saturday, "that Mr. Bryan is the most honest man in the Democratic party. His recent statement only goes to prove it. A more astute and designing politician would have waited until just before the convention to announce that he was in the race. Not so with Bryan. He is so honest that he blurted it right out without waiting."

"How about Bryan's suggestion as to the platform?"

"That, too, shows that he is the most honest Democrat of this day. Otherwise he would have waited for the convention to meet before making the platform."

ANSWERS DEATH'S SUMMONS.

James Quinlan, a veteran of the civil war and for many years a respected resident of this city, died Monday night at the residence of his son, 1234 Twenty-first street, from the effects of a stroke of apoplexy. Mr. Quinlan was sixty-five years of age and was a native of Ireland. He came to America when a boy and first lived at Birmingham, Ala. At the close of the civil war, during which he served in the Union army, he moved to Louisville. He formerly was a letter carrier in this city, but on account of ill health was unable to work in recent years. He is survived by a widow, a son and a daughter. The funeral was held Wednesday morning from the Sacred Heart church, and among the large number

KNIGHTS OF COLUMBUS.
Late News That Will Interest Members Here and Elsewhere.

Concord Council of Boston celebrated its tenth anniversary with a banquet on Wednesday night.

The two councils at Syracuse have appointed committees to arrange for a second "forty-fives" contest.

The Entertainment Committee has in preparation a dance to be given during the Christmas holidays to take place at the Woman's Club.

Next Tuesday at Syracuse the first degree will be conferred by LeMay Council, and on December 17 a large class will receive the second.

Several councils will send bowling teams to the national bowling tournament at Cincinnati next March. There is material for a good team in the local council.

The three degrees will be exemplified for Dearborn Council at Lawrenceburg, Ind., on December 1, when the initiation of its second class of candidates will take place.

CONVENT BURNED.

Fire, which started early Saturday morning was swept by a high gulf wind through Bay St. Louis, Miss., burning to the ground everything in its path and causing a damage of about $200,000. St. Joseph's, one of the most famous institutions of its kind in that section of the South, was totally destroyed, and the Catholic church and parsonage were also burned.

NOTHING DOING.

Misses—Jane, I saw the milkman kiss you this morning. In the future I will take the milk in.

Jane—"Wouldn't be no use, mum. He's promised never to kiss anybody but me."

LIVELY.

He was a good-natured German, and his face fairly beamed as he walked into a drug store. The first thing that caught his attention was an electric fan humming busily on the soda counter. He looked at it with great interest and then turned to the clerk.

"Py golly!" he said, smilingly, "dat's a tam'd lifly squirrel yot you got in dare, don't it?"

THIS IS HIGH.

"High buildings, sir?" remarked an American contemptuously. "Why, in England you don't know what height is. Last time I was in New York it was a blazing hot day, and I saw a man coming out of a lift wrapped from top to toe in bearskins, and I said to him, 'Why are you muffled up on a broiling day like this?' 'Waal,' he said, 'you see I live at the top of the buildin', and it's so high that it's covered with snow all the year round.'"

IRELAND.

Record of the Most Important of the Recent Events Culled From Exchanges.

The weather in many sections continues wet and foggy, and some of the crops are looked upon as being practically lost.

A great public meeting in support of the Irish Parliamentary party was held in Ardee last Sunday. Special trains were run and addresses were delivered by Messrs. William Field, Timothy Harrington and other Nationalists.

From the Glen district of County Cavan comes a report that a sum of $8,500 in gold was found concealed in one of the walls of the public house in Glengavin formerly owned by the late Counsellor Cosgrove. Rumor has it the money was secreted over fifty years ago.

The first "drive" in Westmeath took place on the lands of Killigh, on the estate of Gen. Fetherstonhaugh. About fifty cattle were turned out on the roads and much excitement prevailed. The police arrived on the scene and affected the arrest of seven men. Several more arrests are expected to follow.

Elias Porter, of Knockaturlie died in the Monaghan County Infirmary as the result of injuries received in some unknown manner. He was found just outside the town of Monaghan with numerous severe cuts about the head. A man named Francis Duffy has been arrested for connection with the deed.

The dead body of Thomas McGrath, a grocer's assistant of Drogheda, was found on the railway at Howth cut to pieces. Deceased had left Drogheda by train for Dublin to visit the exhibition, and it is presumed that on returning he got into the wrong train and was carried to Howth. How he got onto the railway track is a mystery.

The death took place in Dublin of Viscount Gormanstown, G. C. M. G., in the seventy-first year of his age. He had a stroke on Saturday and never recovered consciousness. Deceased was the fourteenth holder of the title, Premier Viscount of Ireland, and one of the Catholic peers. He was formerly in the army and served in the Indian mutiny campaign.

Patrick Brady, a gauger on the Great Northern railway, near Cavan, was decapitated by an engine while engaged in shunting. The deceased, who had been complaining of giddiness, was standing on the six-foot way as an engine approached. He fell forward suddenly on one of the rails, his head being completely severed. Brady was a sober and trusted servant.

Dr. John Sellars, Coroner for North Louth, held an inquest at Carlingford to investigate the death of Thomas O'Hanlon, who was found dead on the public road. After all the evidence had been heard the jury found that O'Hanlon's death was caused by fracture of the skull and injury to the brain, resulting from falling from the railway bridge at Mullatree on the public road.

With feelings of deep regret we announce the death of Thomas Fitzpatrick at Ohill, Drogheda, which sad event took place after a very long and tedious illness, which he bore with Christian fortitude. He died fortified by the rites of the Catholic church, of which he was a devout member. The funeral was the largest seen in the district for a long time, and testified to the esteem in which the deceased and his family were held.

By the death of the Rev. Father Morris, of Naas, which occurred after a lingering illness, in his seventy-eighth year, the parishioners have lost a kind and devoted minister. Deceased was educated at Carlow and Maynooth and was appointed to his first curacy in the Dublin diocese. Thence he proceeded to his native diocese of Kildare and Leighlin. Afterward he ministered successively at Carlow, Maryborough, Ballyglass, and thirty years ago came to Naas.

While John O'Brien and John Dunlea, road contractors at Ballyporeen, were driving on a side car down the Old Quay at Clonmel one of the men apparently pulled out of the reins, and the horse and car and its occupants were plunged into the river. There was a swift current running and the car and two men were carried about fifty yards. Messrs. John and Denis Longman, a boat hauler named Rickett, Sergeant Daly, Acting Sergeant Vane and Constable Brown pluckily dragged the men, horse and car out of the water. Dunlea was none the worse, but O'Brien's life was extinct. He was about fifty years of age.

EUGENE CARRARO DEAD.

Eugene Carraro, a prominent Italian and one of the best known saloon-keepers in the city, died Thursday morning at his home, Third and Green streets, leaving a wife and five children to mourn his loss. He was forty years old and his death followed a short illness of dropsy. Three brothers, Louis Carraro, of Cincinnati, and Frank and Charles Carraro, of this city, survive him. Popular in business circles and liked by all who knew him, the news of his death was a shock and caused widespread sorrow. The funeral will be held this morning at 9 o'clock from the Cathedral.

POPULAR YOUNG MEN.

The Five Fals Club will entertain with a dance on Tuesday evening. The club is composed of five popular young men who can be depended upon as high class entertainers and are as follows: John Kessler, Clarence Preuss, George Pfeffer, Edward DeForrester and Melvin Shira.

MONSIGNOR SETON WELCOMED.

Mgr. Robert Seton, Archbishop of Heliopolis, the popular American prelate living in Rome, arrived back last week after a four months' vacation spent in the North of Europe, principally in Norway, Sweden and Denmark. Mgr. Seton has been heartily received by his many friends in the Eternal City, and the Pope was especially benevolent in the audience he granted him.

'QUICK MEAL' GAS RANGES

For many years the "Quick Meal" has been universally acknowledged as the best gas range in the market. They cook quickly, burn excellently and on account of their patent air burners consume less gas than any other. They are more easily cleaned and are made to last. The new improvements this year will keep it in the front rank. Having made our 1907 contract before the advance in prices of all iron goods we are able to sell at old prices.

FEAST OF ST. CECILIA.

Father Brady Arranges For a Fitting Observance Tomorrow.

Tomorrow will be a great day for many Catholics of the West End, for the reason that Rev. Father Brady and Murray have arranged for an elaborate and impressive celebration of the feast of St. Cecilia, the patron of that church, one of the oldest in the city and soon to be replaced by one of the handsomest church edifices in the diocese.

The celebration will begin with the solemn high mass at 10 o'clock in the morning, when Rev. Father Leo Grenlich, the eloquent pastor of St. Anthony's, will preach the sermon. That there will be a large congregation at this service there is no doubt. The choir will be largely augmented and will render a musical programme prepared especially for the occasion.

In the evening at 7:30 o'clock there will be solemn vespers and benediction and a lecture by Father Leo. The choir will render another splendid musical programme, and it is expected that a large number of the local clergy will assist at the services and occupy seats within the sanctuary. Father Brady and the congregation extend an invitation to the general public to participate in the celebration, which will equal any that has yet taken place at St. Cecilia's.

MACKIN COUNCIL

Confers Degrees and Receives Seventeen Additional Members.

Despite many obstacles nearly 300 members assembled Tuesday night at the club house at 10 o'clock in council to confer the degrees on seventeen candidates and bring the membership up to 500. President Ben Sand occupied the chair and dispatched the business in a most satisfactory manner. All were pleased to see Andy East and Will Shaughnessy with the council after an absence of a few months. The work of the degree team was the best yet seen and was highly appreciated by the hundreds present.

President Sand announced that the annual mass for the deceased members of Mackin Council would be celebrated Sunday morning at St. Cecilia's church at 7 o'clock, and all who can were urged to approach holy communion.

Next Tuesday night the nomination of officers will take place, the election to follow in December. Thus far there are no announced candidates, but the impression prevails that Ben Sand will be given another term, despite the fact that he has declined to allow his name to be put forward. He has made a splendid executive, and therefore if he consents to serve he will have no opposition. The other officers have been equally faithful and if they desire they will be re-elected. This has been a very successful year for Mackin, the council having largely increased its membership and swelled its finances to such a figure as to put the organization practically out of debt, and this notwithstanding the large amounts expended for sick and death benefits and charitable purposes. The Visiting Committee reported that all the sick members were improving.

Thursday night a splendid audience assembled to hear Dr. Ernstberger's lecture on the prevention and cure of tuberculosis, which was both interesting and instructive, and at its conclusion many expressions of appreciation were heard.

FOR ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

Tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock a meeting of the County Board Committee and prominent Hibernians will be held at the residence of State President George J. Butler, Twentieth street and Portland avenue, to hear reports and make further arrangements for a great celebration of St. Patrick's day, March 17 next. It is hoped all who have been invited will attend this meeting.

KNIGHTS AND LADIES.

What promises to be the event of the year for the Catholic Knights and Ladies of this city will take place Tuesday night at Bertrand Hall, adjoining the Dominican church, when Branch 4 will give an entertainment and reception in honor of the Advisory Board and a large number of invited guests. The Limerick branch is one of the most progressive in the order, and it is not necessary to say President Michael McDermott and his associate officers will provide a good time for all who attend. Every branch in the city will be represented, and some of the best speakers in the city will deliver short addresses.

SILVER JUBILEE.

Father Jansen's Congregation Present Him Fine Automobile.

Beginning with the high mass last Sunday morning the Rev. Father H. W. Jansen, for twenty-five years pastor of St. Francis de Sales church at Paducah, and the people of his congregation celebrated his silver jubilee with Triduum thanksgiving services, which were concluded Tuesday evening. Bishop McCloskey honored the occasion with his presence, conducting confirmation services at the first mass and celebrating the high mass in the presence of a number of clergy and a vast congregation. In the evening Rev. Father A. A. Lambert, of Chicago, lectured on "Woman in Society" to an audience that packed the Kentucky Theater. Monday and Tuesday mornings masses were celebrated by Bishop McCloskey, and Tuesday night Father Lambert lectured in the church on "Science and Revelation." Tuesday evening the fifty-first anniversary of Father Jansen's pastorate and receptions were given him by the congregation. In the afternoon the Sisters and pupils of St. Mary's Academy received him in the Knights of Columbus hall, and that night the congregation and personal friends of the priest also greeted him. The congregation purchased for him a big automobile, as Father Jansen had frequently expressed delight over rides around the city, and numerous other costly gifts were presented to him. Father Jansen is fifty-six years old and a native of Louisville.

CONVALESCENT.

Miss Margaret Moriarty, who was compelled to undergo a delicate operation at Sts. Mary and Elizabeth Hospital, has returned to her home, 1316 West Broadway, where she is making nice progress toward recovery.

FOR OLD FASHIONED FAIR.

The ladies of St. Anthony's Hospital Sewing Society, who will give an old-fashioned fair for that institution in January, will hold a special meeting at the hospital tomorrow afternoon, to which many prominent Catholic gentlemen have been invited. As the work of these good ladies is most commendable, it is to be hoped all will respond to their invitation.

THEATRICAL.

The bill for next week at the Mary Anderson is replete with comedy and will please lovers of high class vaudeville. New faces will be seen in acts not presented in this city before.

Mr. Mantell comes next to Macaulay's and will present four great Shakespeare roles—Richard III, on Monday night, Macbeth on Tuesday night, Shylock on Wednesday afternoon, and King Lear on Wednesday night.

The Masonic's offering for next week will be "The Awakening of Mr. Pipp," a play that has been a big hit here. This year new songs and specialties have been added and the production equipped with new scenic effects. Miss Anna Chance will assume the leading feminine role.

An imposing array of vaudeville talent has been selected for the giving week at the Hopkins. The list includes such well-known entertainers as Kelly and Violette, "the fashion plate singing duo"; Charles Leonard Fletcher, in character studies of Mansfield and other noted actors; the International Four, acrobatic comedians; Phil and Nest Peters, a Louisville pair who are to appear at home after an absence of five years; the Petching Brothers, presenting "A Garden of Music"; James F. Macdonald, a famous comic opera comedian; Marvelous Greer, European acrobat; and other variety stars of equal ability and fame.

TURKEY DINNER.

Grand Bazar For St. Paul's School Opens Next Tuesday.

Amid a blaze of light and handsome decorations the Thanksgiving bazar for the benefit of St. Paul's new school, just erected by Rev. Thomas York, will be opened to the public on Tuesday, and from the advance sale of tickets there will be a large attendance every afternoon and night, but especially on Thursday, when a big Thanksgiving turkey dinner will be the feature. Children will be admitted free every afternoon and the ladies will then enjoy a coffee social. For each evening an excellent programme has been arranged and some lucky person will be awarded $20 in gold. All tickets are numbered and on the last night there will be a drawing for a fine cow and an elegant diamond ring. A series of euechres will take place nightly, and they should prove very popular, as there are a large number of handsome prizes to be awarded.

There will be a number of pretty booths and refreshment stands presided over by the ladies of that section, who promise to make the time pass pleasantly for all who visit them. This bazar will be up-to-date in every respect and will furnish a number of amusements that originated in the East and have not yet been seen in Louisville. A better place to spend a jolly Thanksgiving day will not be found, and all who wish to enjoy the holiday will find a noble priest in a noble work. The school building is located on Jackson street, between Kentucky and St. Catherine, and is well worth a visit.

TRINITY COUNCIL.

Nomination of Officers Next Tuesday Night Excites Interest.

The fact that Trinity Council, Y. M. I., will nominate officers for the ensuing year next Tuesday night has excited considerable interest among the members, and as a result there promises to be some spirited contests for the honor of holding office in this popular organization. The attendance at the meeting this week was unusually large despite the street car trouble and bad weather. In the absence of President Conkling the chair was occupied by ex-President Martin and there was much good feeling over the report that only one member, Harry Kirchdorfer, was on the sick list, but was progressing toward recovery.

When the Entertainment Committee made its report there was long continued applause over the announcement that another handsome addition to the building fund had been placed in the treasury. Thus far the efforts of this committee have been crowned with success, and they expect to break the record with the Thanksgiving eve euechre and dance, for which every preparation has been made.

Tuesday night it developed that large numbers of members are opposed to meeting on Tuesday nights, and next month an amendment changing back to Monday nights will be proposed. This will enable the members of Trinity to visit the other Falls Cities councils without missing their own meetings.

Ex-State President Albert P. Martin was called upon and responded with a ringing address, in which he dwelt upon the necessity for harmonious and united action in the ranks of the order, now making the best progress in its history. The speaker congratulated Trinity upon its work during the past year and urged its continuance. This course, he declared, would increase their numbers and enable them to complete the magnificent home, the foundation for which and been laid, before this time next year.

OLD GUARD REUNION.

Stephen Dunigan acted as host at a reunion of the "Old Guard" Club one night this week, serving an elegant supper to the members. Those present were Messrs. Steve McElliot, W. J. Connelly, Thomas Campion, W. J. Chaw, Dave Reilly, John McNamara, John Winn and Gus Mann. Toasts were responded to by every one present and it was determined to make the reunion an annual affair.
